

Wines in Rome

If you're looking for great places to enjoy wine in Rome, here are five top spots ranging from cozy enotecas to elegant wine bars:

- Il Goccetto (Centro Storico): One of Rome's best-known wine bars, with a fantastic selection of natural and regional wines. Cozy atmosphere inside a 17th-century building, perfect for a relaxed evening.
 - Try: A glass of Lazio's Cesanese red with a plate of cured meats and cheeses.
- Roscioli Salumeria con Cucina (Campo de' Fiori): A mix of wine bar, restaurant, and deli, offering hundreds of Italian and international wines. Perfect for wine paired with gourmet dishes like carbonara and burrata.
 - Try: A sommelier-guided tasting menu with top Italian wines.
- Enoteca La Torre (Prati): A Michelin-starred wine experience inside Villa Laetitia, a stunning historic villa. Features an exceptional wine list curated by expert sommeliers.
 - Try: A refined Barolo or Brunello di Montalcino paired with fine dining dishes.
- Trimani Wine Bar (Near Termini Station): One of Rome's oldest enotecas (since 1821) with a huge selection of Italian and international wines. Offers both casual glasses and bottles to take home.
 - Try: A super Tuscan wine with their excellent charcuterie board.
- Beppe e i Suoi Formaggi (Jewish Ghetto): A wine and cheese lover's paradise, serving artisanal cheeses from all over Italy. Focuses on natural wines and small producers.
 - Try: A glass of Frascati Superiore (a white from Lazio) with a selection of local cheeses.
